IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sore and paralyzed. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water seals and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning on an empty stomach, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus preventing bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. adv.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing deaf, by using this home remedy will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be cured. The remedy is made at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief. After treatment, the hearing is restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch may be plainly audible, seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, put out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength). Take this home remedy and add to it 10 drops of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

IMPORTANT LAWS PASSED BY SIXTY-SIXTH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—While consideration of the treaty of Versailles was the outstanding event of the first session of the sixty-sixth congress—the first in six years in which Republicans have controlled both branches—considerable important legislation was completed and many other measures prepared for disposal when the regular meeting begins Dec. 1.

The session closing today was an extraordinary one convened May 13 under a call issued from Paris by President Wilson to consider primarily the appropriation bills which failed at the session ending last March 3.

Among the principal legislative achievements were:

Submission of the woman suffrage constitutional amendment to the states for ratification.

The prohibition enforcement bill, providing for enforcing war-time and constitutional prohibition, passed over President Wilson's veto.

The act repealing the daylight savings law also passed over the president's veto.

Providing for return of telegraph, telephone and cable wire lines to private operation.

Continuing government control of dyes to Jan. 1, next.

Extension of the Lever food and fuel control law to clothing and other necessities.

Continuing war-time passport restrictions so as to prevent an influx of radical aliens.

Ten appropriation bills aggregating about $1,000,000,000 also were passed.

They included $750,000,000 for the railroad administration, $172,000,000 for the army, $14,000,000 for the navy and a sundry civil budget of $612,000,000.

The French treaty providing an American guarantee to assist France in the event of unprovoked German aggression was submitted to the senate by the president July 25, after coming from the senate's veto.

Several important legislative measures went over for final action at the regular session. The oil, coal, gas and phosphate land leasing bill, passed by both bodies and remains in conference, as does the Edge bill authorizing organization of corporations to help finance American export trade.

The each railroad bill passed the house and will be taken up with the senate interstate commerce committee.

BETTER BUSINESS FOR CHURCHES IS THE METHODIST PLAN

ed John R. Pepper, chairman of the conference Sunday school board, Wednesday night.

First, the conference has the banner district of the entire Methodist Episcopal church, South, for the number of departments that have taken rank for work in the elementary grades. The Memphis district, of which Dr. R. E. Sharp is presiding elder, leads the entire church in the progress of its elementary Sunday school work.

Second, within the jurisdiction of the conference the first Parent-Teachers Sunday School association in the entire church has been organized. This association was organized in St. John's church, class, of the Memphis district; the church in which the annual conference is being held. The initial Parent-Teachers association organized in St. John's church, became a force for the advancement of the Sunday school that the movement has been recognized by the church at large and promises to spread throughout Southern Methodism.

Third, the first seven seal diploma ever issued to a Sunday school worker was won in this conference. This diploma was recently given to Mrs. W. W. Adams, wife of the Rev. W. W. Adams, pastor of Harris Memorial church, this city.

Mrs. Adams was called to the platform after this announcement was made and Mr. Pepper presented her with a beautiful pendant in recognition of her faithful work that has played so great a part in bringing so many distinctions to the Sunday schools of the Memphis district of the conference. Mrs. Adams is superintendent of the conference elementary Sunday school department.

Out of the 10 conferences of the Methodist church, South, the Memphis conference is the first to have attained what is known as the third rank for Sunday school work. No higher rank has yet been won by any conference.

Wednesday night was given over to the Sunday school board to present its work to the conference. Chairman of the board, Mr. Pepper presided.

Evangelism Emphasized.

The Rev. F. Hightower, of Nashville, associate editor of the Sunday school publications of the church, delivered the principal address, in which he emphasized the importance of evangelism in the Sunday school.

During the next few months the attention of all Methodists in the United States is to be directed toward the revival of religion. Dr. Hightower said in opening his address:

"The feeling is general," he said, "not only that men need salvation from sin in the world to come but that nothing but a revival of religion can save our great country from national disaster. It was the great evangelistic movement that swept the country at the close of the Civil War that undergirded our nation, and especially our Southland in the dark period following that conflict. The great revival of faith is as great now as it was then." Dr. Hightower declared.

"The Wesleyan revival saved England, historians assert. A Wesleyan revival can save America now from the dangers of class wars, industrial unrest and false faiths that threaten the peace of the nation."

"The masses are not coming to church," Dr. Hightower said. "We cannot substitute the formal for the vital in religion without disaster. Wesley tried to take the church to the masses, and when prevented from doing so he carried the gospel to the masses despite the church."

Ten appropriation bills aggregating about $1,000,000,000 also were passed. They included $750,000,000 for the railroad administration, $172,000,000 for the army, $14,000,000 for the navy and a sundry civil budget of $612,000,000.

CONFERENCE NOTES.

Charles B. Quinn, executive secretary of the general conference on arrangements for St. John's church, who held the belt as the champion heavy weight of the conference, tipping the beam at 212 pounds, had to surrender Wednesday to Rev. Henry Davis, whose normal weight registered 203.

Those pretty girl pages are among the living flowers of the sessions, useful as well as ornamental.

When it comes to dispensing hospitality graciously every member of the conference must "hear it" to the ladies who serve the noon luncheon at the church.

The various churches of Memphis, as is the custom, have thrown open their doors to the conference and the city pulpit will be filled by Methodists Sunday.

Evangelist Burk Culppepper, a famous evangelist, who claims Memphis as his home, has just returned from a great revival work in Texas. Evangelist Culppepper has held revivals in 13 different states this year and has added 4,000 to the various churches. He has spent 30 years in revival work. He leaves next week for Fayette, Mo., to hold a meeting.
